Hi, I'm Rachel! I'm a multidisciplinary freelancer from Indonesia with 10+ years of experience in design. My journey started in publishing with illustration and editorial work, and later grew into branding, photography, motion graphics, and more.

Curious by nature, I love learning new tools, exploring fresh styles, and collaborating with people from all backgrounds. I thrive in open, friendly environments always seeking to grow and create something exciting.

Feel free to explore my work, I'd love to collaborate!

ILP wanted to display their mission/vision statements as a poster series on their lobby. Their intent was for a series of illustrations that'll be exciting for children but also eye-catching enough to the parents waiting in the lobby. Presented was a collage style aesthetic to mirror the creative projects done by their students.

Puff-Fiction is a delivery only dining experience, primarily focusing on Wellington Pastries. Their brand is classy with a hint of quirkiness, with the intention to bring a luxury dining experience into their customers home.

The challenge for their take-out packaging is to make it as eco-concious as possible. It consists of illustrative instructions, wooden trays, plant-based compostable packaging & a glass bottle for re-usability.

Provenance

We believe in the provenance of ingredients, taking care to select ingredients that are sustainable, ethically sourced, grown and processed for our Beef and Ocean Trout Wellingtons. Resulting in some of the best and tastiest Beef and Ocean Trout Wellingtons in Singapore.

Cape Grim's collective of beef farmers throughout Tasmania, King and Flinders Islands are committed to ethical practices and are audited by a third-party. They nurture the finest quality cattle, without harming the pristine environment. Raised on rich pastures with nothing else added. Cape Grim Beef is hand-selected and rigorously graded, rewarding you with pure beef flavour – made by nature.

Pertuna Ocean Trout comes from the remote west coast of Tasmania. The company is committed to producing high quality, sustainably sourced seafood whilst recognising the fine balance between aquaculture and the natural environment in which they operate.
